Junior Chamber of Commerce

Your Junior Chamber of Commerce is a Civic Organization for young men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive. It is dedicated to two purposes: (1) Improvement and development of the community. (2.) Improvement and development of its individual members to train them for business advancement and civic leadership.

It may be defined as "a supplementary educational organization wherein the young men of your community may join together in a friendly spirit to inculcate civic consciousness in its membership by means of active participation in community, state, and national affairs."

In short, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization of young men learning civic consciousness through constructive action.

This, then, is an organization specifically designed to meet a young man's need. Only in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is it possible for you to assume leadership in community betterment at an age when such leadership would be denied you if you were competing for offices with older and more experienced men.

There are young men at work in worth-while endeavor in your Junior Chamber of Commerce. The opportunity is now extended you to join them in the privilege of building your borough's future.

LOCATION

Media is located in Delaware County, approximately fourteen miles southwest of the city of Philadelphia.

EDUCATION

Media has a Public School, a Parochial Grade School, a Friends School and two private schoools, one for elementary education and the other for business education. The Public School is now in a Third Class District, due to the increased population. The present building was occupied in 1914, after removal from the old building at Third and Olive Streets.

Board of Directors—Leedom Tuckerman, Raymond P. Grubb, U. Grant Really, Dr. Isaac S. Pike, William J. Armstrong, Horace L. Way and Earle O. Babbitt.

Supervisor—William H. Micheals.

Principal—John K. Barrall.

Truant Officer—Laura D. Morton.

HISTORY

For nearly two centuries after the first settlers came to the region in which Media was destined to be developed, the charming site of the town was sparsely settled like other agricultural districts of the County.

The agitation for the removal of the seat of justice of Delaware County from Chester to a more central locality lead to a meeting at the Black Horse Hotel, Middletown Township, November 22, 1845. After the meeting the matter was submitted to the people at the ensuing election and a close vote was in favor of removal. It was not until April 7, 1848, however, that the State Legislature finally sustained the verdict, and the town was laid out in Upper and Nether Providence Townships. Media was incorporated as a borough in 1850, after a bitterly fought contest over the temperance question in which the conservative Quaker element played an important part.

Municipal improvements came gradually. Streets were surveyed and later paved, a water works and a gas works were secured, and the Public Buildings were erected. The original Court House and Jail were occupied in 1851. The present structures with additions were completed in 1931.

The West Chester and Philadelphia Railroad was incorporated April 11, 1848, and the road was completed to Media by 1855, when service was inaugurated.

This transportation facility was instrumental in developing a summer resident population, who came to the borough to enjoy the peaceful cleanliness of this rural village.

Media became a center of renowned educational institutions represented by Shortlidge's Academy and Brooke Hall Female Seminary.

The population increased gradually through normal growth, until the borough attained its present position with a population of 5,351. It has become a shopping center for a wide radius.

Media looks backward with pride upon a foundation well laid by its town fathers, and forward to greater improvements and increased prosperity for future generations.

RECREATIONAL

Media has been famous for its place in the sports world. The borough has been represented on the baseball diamond for many years by teams of a high caliber, and several players have become major league stars.

In recent years the town has supported professional football.

The borough athletic commission conducts an intra-borough softball and basketball league, and supplies playground facilities for young children of Media during the summer months.

Media High School participates in several branches of athletics including football, basketball, baseball, track, hockey and cross-country.

The Media Tennis Club is located on Third Street near Orange. Three fine courts are available to members.

The Media Swimming and Rowing Club has its clubhouse on the West bank of Broomall's Lake, on Third Street. This body of water offers excellent swimming facilities in the summer, and ice skating in the winter. The Media Swimming Pool located south of the Media R. R. Station offers additional summer recreational facilities.

Within close proximity to Media are five golf courses of varying degrees of excellence.

Riding clubs are also available to those residents interested in horseback riding.

The many adjacent fields, woods, and streams offer excellent facilities for the hunter and fisherman in season.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Samuel Smedley Park and Glen Providence Park on the outskirts of Media offer excellent facilities for picnicking, hiking, nature study, and summer concerts.

The Delaware County Court House, facing on Front Street, has been proclaimed by experts as one of the best examples of Public Buildings in the United States.

The Delaware County Institute of Science on South Avenue, contains an interesting and educational collection of scientific and historical data for members and local residents. The original site, at Sycamore Mills, was one of the first libraries in Delaware County.

The Air Raid setup in Media is a very simple, yet efficient organization. It is divided into ten sections, each section containing the homes of about 500 persons. Each section, which is better known as a Post, is in the charge of a Senior Air Raid Warden, who has from four to six Wardens under his supervision(each of these having a certain part of the post which they are to patrol during an air raid. The Senior Warden remains at the post headquarters and relays all information from there to the Control Center, which at present is located in the basement of the Media Library. The Deputy Warden at the Control Center dispatches the various emergency units to wherever they are needed.

The signal for an air raid alarm is the fire siren, blown at a warbling pitch for a two-minute period—up and down, up and down, etc.

When the raid is over, the "All Clear Signal" will be sounded for a period of two minutes, at a high, steady pitch. The siren is also blown in this same manner for a fire.

Don't forget, above all, keep calm, stay inside, keep quiet, don't go near windows, if driving, stop and seek shelter.

Do what the Air Raid Warden or the Auxiliary or Regular Police tell you to.
